

SAN DIEGO MESA COLLEGE

Student Equity Plan Executive Summary

2022-2025

Introduction

At San Diego Mesa College, equity is a student-centered approach to fostering a culture of success for historically marginalized students. In our roles as faculty members, student services practitioners, staff, and administrators, we pursue equity through principles of inquiry and data-informed decision making. We will achieve equity when we see parity in outcomes across racial/ethnic groups and all disproportionately impacted groups within higher education. We work within integrated and equity-minded systems to ensure that everyone has what they need to succeed during their time at Mesa College.

The 2022 Equity Plan maps directly to our Comprehensive Strategic Plan. The vision of the college is to be the leading college of equity and excellence, educating students to shape the future. The commitment to equity and excellence is demonstrated by an ongoing process of programmatic and pedagogical innovation, ongoing conversations that address metrics, culture, actions, and language, and streamlining structural processes.

Activities are funded by combinations of the general fund, funds from the Student Equity and Achievement Program and other categorical programs, and grant funds. Thus the work of eliminating equity gaps will be based on intentional institutional practices not limited to the sources of funding.

Our Commitment:

- We view students from an asset-based perspective
- We view our work through an equity lens
- We are committed to addressing and eliminating systemic barriers

To accomplish this, we will meet educational needs and accommodate the learning styles of our students through early implementation of varied pedagogy generally regarded as promising practices, and regular and thorough assessments of both teaching methods and student learning outcomes.

How We Define Equity

At San Diego Mesa College, equity is a fundamental value and goal. We will know we have achieved equity when we see parity in outcomes across racial/ethnic student groups and all student groups that have been historically marginalized within higher education. Our commitment to equity requires that minoritized students have access and support across all campus systems, from application to completion. We aim for equity in access and opportunities for all.

At Mesa, equity is student-centered. Our professional community respects students and their contributions, listens to students, and responds to students' different needs without stereotyping. We aim to provide opportunity to all students regardless of their educational goals. We are here to set students up for success and we acknowledge all the different facets of our students' identities.

We pursue equity through a culture of inquiry and data-informed decision making in the classroom and across campus areas. We are working to approach difficult conversations about systems of oppression with skill and humility. Mesa is committed to developing interventions based upon robust data collection and following through on our new ideas with inquiry into the success of their implementation. We aspire to work within integrated and equity-minded systems to ensure that everyone has what they need to succeed during their time at Mesa College.

Target Groups

In our initial 2014-2015 Student Equity Plan, we identified groups that were disproportionately impacted according to five student success measures and then selected target groups for our equity initiatives. At that time we found African American students to be disproportionately impacted in all areas, while Latinx students and Pacific Islander students, presented as disproportionately impacted in multiple areas.

As we consider our DI data in 2022 relative to the Vision for Success metrics, we find that our target groups have not changed relative to race. We acknowledge and appreciate the intentionality of this iteration of the equity plan template with its' return to focus on race. While we have identified other disproportionately impacted groups and will continue to modify systems and develop strategies for supporting them, our primary focus for the 2022-2025 Equity Plan will be purposefully focused on race.

The table below shows all of the target student groups for each success measure.

Goals

After confirming our target student groups we set consistent baseline goals for each group using both qualitative and quantitative output measures. We recognize the impact of the COVID Pandemic on our equity work.

The pandemic exacerbated racial inequities that impeded equitable outcomes for marginalized students. The pandemic placed additional stresses and pressures on students, putting many of them at risk. Suspending in-person operations and abruptly shifting to remote and online modalities resulted in virtual learning methods. Students were distanced from the campus, impacting their ability to participate in student organizations, intercollegiate athletics, co-curricular activities, and, most importantly, the ability to access critical student support services. Many students experienced greater racial, social, and health inequities due to the pandemic.

As a result we were determined to set goals over the first two years using qualitative measures with the intent on rebuilding community and sense of belonging. In the third year of our efforts we hope to see improvement by means of a 5% closing of all equity gaps for each given metric.

Conclusion

Student Equity and Achievement Program (Assembly Bill 943) requires colleges to collaborate and coordinate equity-minded programs across the college to develop and implement specific action plans to address disparities that are revealed when success data is disaggregated by student demographics.

The 2022 – 2025 Equity Plan re-centers our work around race specifically focusing on our three long standing disproportionately impacted groups, Black/African American; Latinx, and Pacific Islander. To complete this plan, the college has drawn from other institutional work including Guided Pathways, Basic Needs, Mesa 2030 Strategic Planning and Mesa 2030 Roadmap.
